

Leone & Spadaro and CBM launch a cooperation agreement

Studio Associato Leone & Spadaro has signed an agreement with Consorzio per il Centro di Biomedicina Molecolare (“CBM”) which is the appointed body which coordinates the activities of Technology Cluster in Molecular Biomedicine in the Friuli Venezia Giulia Region; formally established through an agreement between the Ministry of Education, University and Research and the Friuli Venezia Giulia Region.

CBM promotes innovative research in the field of molecular biomedicine, pharmaceuticals and in the development of advanced biomedical equipments, alone and in cooperation with partners of the Consortium, taking care of the commercial exploitation of the research results.

CBM provides partners and members with legal assistance in the field of Intellectual and Industrial Property, and Studio Associato Leone & Spadaro integrates such service and counseling with its own technical expertise, with particular reference to companies and public bodies acting within the territory of the Cluster.
